Alva Samuels

A man about 30 years old. Tall and thin. Spent over 2 years in hospital in Kingston treated for T.B. Operated and 7 ribs removed. He complained he was "an orphan", father and mother died, and there was nobody to take care of him. He cant work hard. He lives with a brother much younger than himself in Tad Town.

The father was from Kingston. He had a "property" there. After he died an aunt wanted to cheat Alva from the succession, but he went to court and won his case. The property was sold, but he had to spend the money when he stayed in Kingston. Probably after all the money was spent he came to Bull Savannah.

His mother was from the Neil family, but her father was Lewis. While Samuels was in the hospital the house he lives now was rented.

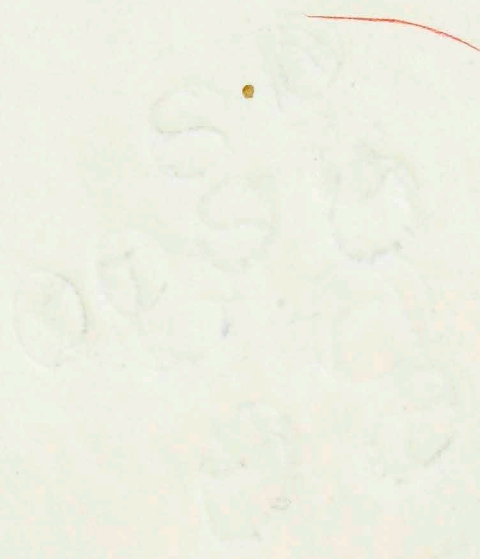

Inform.: Dudley Simpson.

His means of subsistence.

"Alva Samuel work a little tomato and a lot of gambling and got government support too. "Colorado" - its what we call him."

"His mother was Alice Ebanks and his father a chinaman from Kingston. Both father and mother die. He is on Enoch Banton land - he rents it. He rents the little house from Enoch Banton. After he come from the hospital T.B. ward the people don't recognise him and don't mingle so he get a separate house. But now they find he is all right - he move freely. Him visit Rebecca . Rebecca Ebanks is his aunt."

Alva Samuel is one of the "suspected" fathers of Alvin Smith the son of Doris Banton. However Alvin (who is an idiot) was "owned" by Panton Smith.
