Handwritten text in black ink with red decorative flourishes. The text consists of four characters in a stylized, cursive script, likely a form of Chinese calligraphy. The characters are: 一 (one), 二 (two), 三 (three), and 四 (four). The characters are written in black ink, and there are red decorative strokes above and below them. The first character '一' has a red stroke above it. The second character '二' has a red stroke above it. The third character '三' has a red stroke above it. The fourth character '四' has a red stroke above it. There are also red strokes below the characters, forming a wavy line.

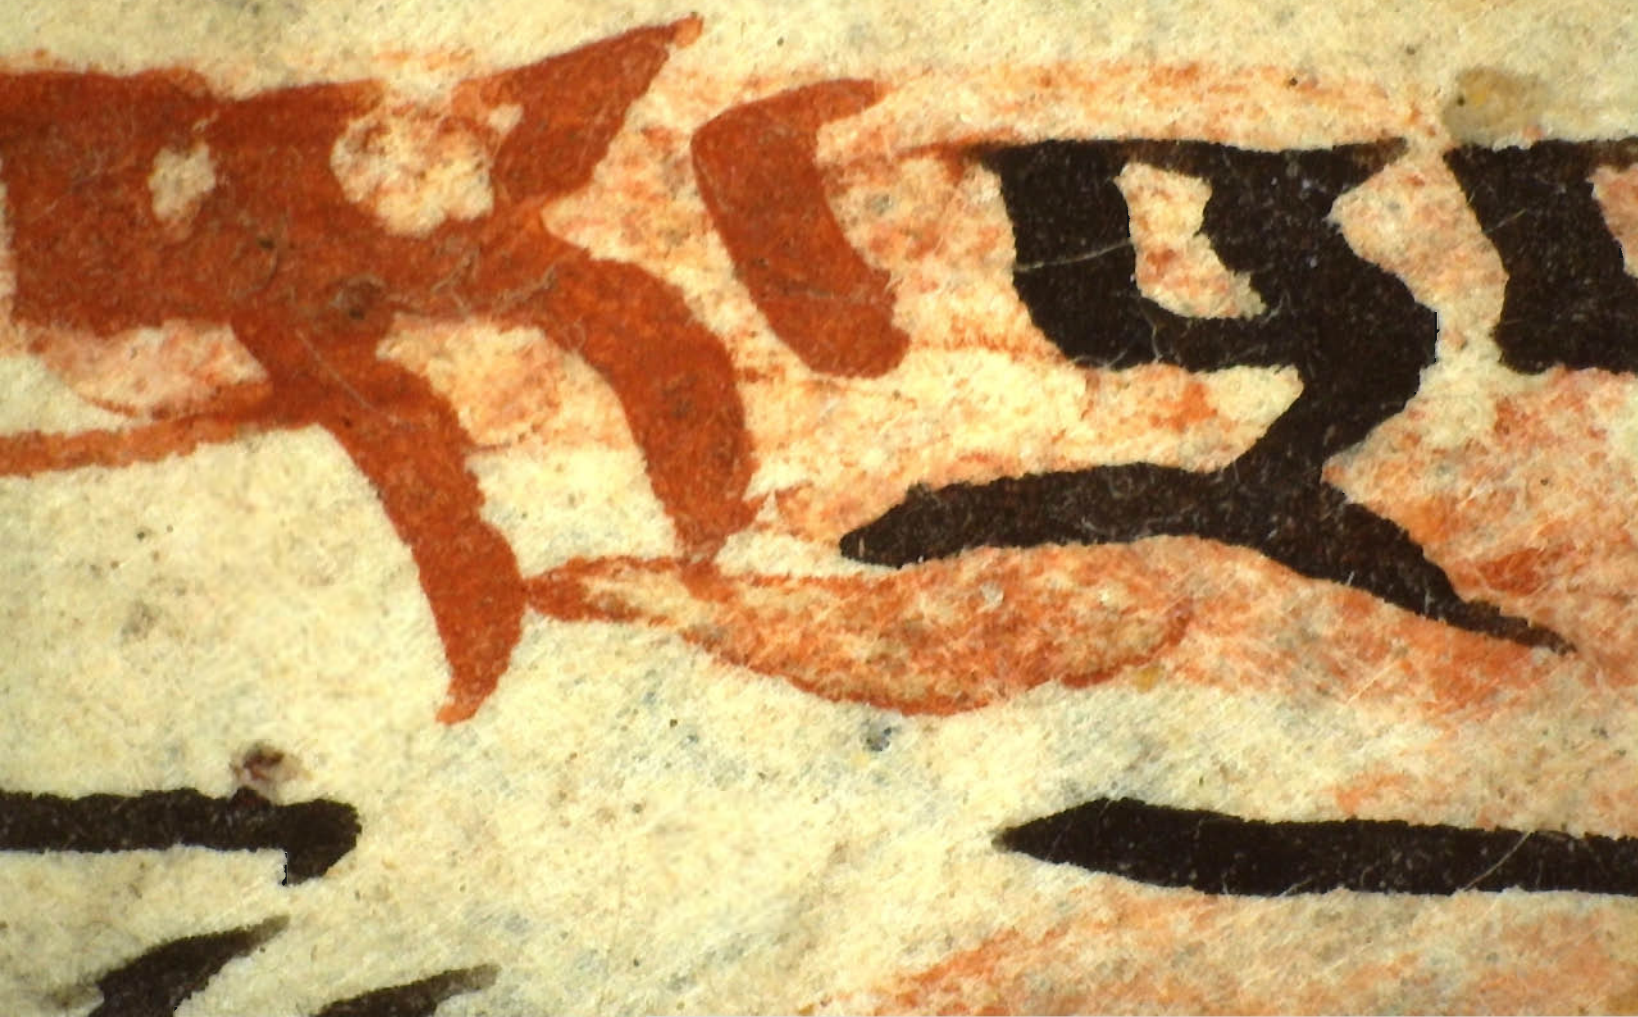

Handwritten text in a stylized script, possibly a form of shorthand or a specific dialect, written in dark ink on a light-colored, textured surface. The text is partially obscured by a horizontal orange-red band.
