

Handwritten text in an ancient script, likely Pāli, inscribed on a fragment of aged, yellowish-brown paper. The text is arranged in approximately seven horizontal lines, though some characters are overlapping and difficult to decipher due to the paper's texture and the script's cursive nature. The fragment is irregularly shaped with frayed edges, suggesting it is a piece from a larger document. The ink is dark, and the overall appearance is that of an archaeological find.

Handwritten text in an ancient script, likely Pahlavi, on a fragment of aged parchment. The text is arranged in approximately seven horizontal lines. The script is dense and cursive, with some characters appearing to be in red ink, possibly indicating initials or specific words. The parchment is heavily textured and shows signs of significant wear, including tears and discoloration.
