Vertical text on the left margin, possibly a library or collection number.

Handwritten text in an ancient script, possibly Pāli or Sanskrit, on a dark, aged palm leaf manuscript. The text is arranged in approximately 10 horizontal lines. The central line is the most legible and reads: एतन्महाप्रज्ञापुत्रोऽयं महाप्रज्ञासुतः

Handwritten text on a palm leaf manuscript, featuring a central line of prominent characters and several lines of smaller script above and below. The leaf is dark brown and shows signs of wear and aging.

Vertical text on the left edge of the leaf, possibly a page or chapter marker.

Handwritten text in the center of the leaf, consisting of a single line of larger characters.

Acip.

Handwritten text in a cursive script, possibly Latin or a related language, written on aged parchment. The text is arranged in several lines, with some characters appearing to be in a different script or dialect. The parchment shows signs of wear, including staining and irregular edges.
