Mrs. Eva Murray's house is on a hill on the main road towards Bottom Warsop, next to Mrs. Evans house. Met her to-day in front of her house. She is a beautiful old lady and must have been exceptionally good looking in her younger days. Was dressed neatly in a light dress a red woolen jacket, thick woolen stockings and decent shoes. She made a slight curtsey when I ~~introduced~~ shook hands with her and asked me my name. She was born in Westmoreland, went to Manchester and from there married to Warsop. She is the widow of David Murray. "You travelled a lot" - "just walked" said Mrs. Eva.

She complains of two things: rheumatism in her leg and small children who were left under her care. They are - she says - her grandchildren. The daughter left her husband and went to Kingston. "She is a bad woman". The small children worry Mrs. Murray. "I have a little girl here, she is..". She would like to give away at least the oldest one. We arranged for a visit soon.
