Handwritten text in a medieval script, likely a form of Gothic or Carolingian minuscule, written on aged parchment. The text is arranged in approximately six lines, though some characters are difficult to decipher due to the script's complexity and the parchment's texture. The script features sharp, angular letterforms with some decorative flourishes. The parchment is heavily stained and discolored, particularly towards the edges, and shows signs of significant wear and tear.

Small handwritten text or signature at the bottom center of the parchment fragment.

Handwritten text in a medieval script, likely Gothic or similar, on aged parchment. The text is arranged in approximately six lines, though some characters are difficult to decipher due to the script and the condition of the parchment. The text appears to be a liturgical or legal document, possibly a prayer or a record of a transaction. The script is dense and fills most of the width of the parchment strip.
